Pre-Admission Counseling Process

Objective:

This report details the pre-admission counselling efforts conducted to assist prospective students in making informed choices about enrolling in the college.

1. Visit to Nearby Government Senior Secondary Schools (GSSS):

The college team conducted visits to nearby Government Senior Secondary Schools (GSSS) to inform and counsel prospective students about available courses, career opportunities, and the benefits of continuing higher education. During these visits, the team interacted with students, providing insights into the college's programs and answering questions on topics such as subject choices and academic support. These school visits also helped establish a direct connection with students, especially those from underrepresented backgrounds, encouraging them to consider college education.

2. Telephonic Contact with Students:

Following the school visits, telephonic outreach was conducted with students who expressed interest in joining the college. This one-on-one telephonic contact provided a personal touch, allowing students and their families to ask questions and discuss specific concerns, including financial aid, course structure, and career prospects. This step proved effective in providing tailored guidance and clarifying doubts, enhancing students' confidence in their decision to pursue higher education.

3. Information on Website:

The college website was updated to serve as an informative resource for pre-admission counselling. A dedicated section on the site provided comprehensive information on available programs, admission criteria, support services, and answers to frequently asked questions. The website served as an easily accessible platform for prospective students and parents to explore details and resources about the college, supporting an informed and smooth application process.

4. College Notice Board:

A dedicated space on the college notice board was set up to display all relevant information on admissions, courses, and counseling schedules. Notices were regularly updated to reflect the latest dates, eligibility requirements, and any changes in the admission process.

5. Admission Prospectus:

The admission prospectus included detailed information about the college's offerings, from course descriptions to student support services and extracurricular activities. It was distributed in digital and physical formats, making it readily available to students during counselling visits and through the college website. The prospectus emphasized the college's commitment to fostering a supportive learning environment, motivating students to consider it as a viable choice for their academic future.

Conclusion:

The pre-admission counselling efforts, combining school visits, telephonic guidance, online resources, and a comprehensive prospectus, have effectively reached out to and informed prospective students. This multi-channel approach ensured that students and their families received reliable information, empowering them to make well-informed decisions about pursuing higher education at the college.

Lecture on Behaviorism

A motivational Lecture on Behaviorism was organized at Government Degree College Majheen on 28th December 2023. It was organized under the able guidance of Principal Dr Chandan Bhardwaj. Main speaker in this event was Dr. Amarjeet Attri, Principal Government Degree College Tissa .on 28th December 2023 at 12.30m.

Dr. Amarjeet Attri recently delivered a Lecture on Behaviorism at Government Degree College Majheen, addressing students to deepen their understanding of the foundational psychological theory. Behaviorism, which emphasizes the study of observable behaviors and dismisses internal processes like thoughts and emotions, is a vital area in psychology, especially in understanding learning processes.

Dr. Attri likely explained core concepts of behaviorism, including classical conditioning (pioneered by Ivan Pavlov), operant conditioning (introduced by B.F. Skinner), and reinforcement theory. He also touched on how behaviorism impacts various fields, such as education, therapy, and behavioral modification.

By presenting these ideas, Dr. Attri encouraged students to appreciate the role of environmental factors in shaping behavior and the practical applications of behaviorism in real-world situations, like classroom learning or developing positive habits. His talk fostered insightful discussions and critical thinking about the extent and limitations of behaviorism in understanding human and animal behavior.

This session concluded with vote of thanks to the resource person.
